Children's holiday?

By Cody and Tristan (War correspondents) 6d

Children have been moved from the city to the countryside due to Adolf Hitler taking over Poland and breaking the Munich agreement. Now children are covering train stations because they are going to the country side on the 1st of September 1939.

People had to carry their gas mask to the train station and everywhere they go.

The children were so sad they had to leave their family. They had to pack their belongings up then walk to the station.

The children were all ready and they cried their eyes out. It was so sad for them so they packed one picture of their family.

The children all got ready to say goodbye and left on the train to the countryside.

We interviewed Sam Gilbert and Jeff Harrington. They are 12 years old and what Jeff Harrington said, "I feel really scared and sad that I have to move to the country side because I want to stay with my family in the city, I don't know how my new family is going to be."

What Sam Gilbert had to say was, "I feel happy because I don't like my family and nervous because I don't know if my family is going to be rude like my mum is to me, or nice."

Sam and Jeff were saying goodbye to their family then, Sam went to his seat in the train and Jeff did not have room so he went into Sam's carriage then they rode off to the countryside.

I don't know how they are going to get on but we never know what's going to happen in the future.
